Hi Ben,

I'm at the Adventure Camp now and it's a really great place! Thanks again for telling me about it. The camp started a month ago. My group is the second one here – we arrived four days ago. We've played games and we've been fishing in the mountain lake. Tomorrow, we're going to explore a cave. I'm feeling both excited and a little scared because I haven't done that before.

But the camp isn't only about having fun and adventures. We're also learning a lot about the environment and how to go green. We've had some practical classes about eco-friendly activities. We've learnt why it's important for the environment to recycle some materials and save energy and water every day. On Friday, we're going to do some clean-up activities in small groups. Mine is going to work near the river. I think it's a good idea. When we learn how to do those things, we can organise events like that in our hometowns.

OK, that's all from me now.

Write back,

Karen
